Preface

The term constitution, comes through French from Latin word constitution, used for regulations and orders. Every written constitution confers specific powers to an organization and also establishes its limitations.

It is a dynamic document and is amended with changing circumstances of the organization and its members. The constitution also embodies the collective wisdom of members of the general body of the organization.

Ophthalmological Society of Pakistan was established in 1957 and during these 61 years of its existence, has been governed by this constitution. The need for publishing the 9th Edition arose after the approval of multiple amendments in its clauses and subclauses by the Central Council in its various sessions in the last 2 years (2016 - 17) and after final approval by the General Body at the national meeting held at Bhurban in April 2018. I am indebted to the hard work done by the Immediate past president Prof. Zia ul Islam and General Secretary Centre, Prof Mahfooz Hussain.

The constitution reforms committee included Prof Zia ul Islam, Prof Mahfooz Hussain (KPK), Prof. Nadeem Hafeez Butt, Dr Qamar ul Islam Lodhi (Punjab), Prof P S Maher, Prof Khan Muhammad Nangrejo (Sindh), Prof Amer Yaqub, Prof Shakaib Anwar (Federal) and Prof Abdul Qayyum (Baluchistan). The committee held several sessions and deliberated on all the proposed amendments in detail. The efforts of the committee are hereby acknowledged.

I hope that these amendments would provide guidelines for better working of OSP in near and distant future.

Prof. Nadeem Hafeez Butt
